Smart lighting is a bright idea

Enjoy the benefits of a sophisticated lighting control system by setting scenes, fades, and dimming levels. You can easily set elegant lighting scenes for each room or for the whole house, without the use of complicated software programs or the need to rewire your home. Just touch one button to turn every light in a room or whole house on or off.

RGB lighting

To understand what RGB lighting is we must first understand what the letters stand for. The "R" stands for red, the "G" stands for green and the "B" stands for blue. These three colors combined, when varied in intensity, have the ability to produce over 16.7 million different colors! Do we have your attention yet?

Many people get nervous or don't understand how one single lighting fixture has the ability to produce that many colors, but it is true. Now getting those colors and what controls to use to get those colors may seem like a daunting task, but we're here to help!

Your music, your way

Multiroom audio system lets you enjoy music from your iPod, radio, dvd players or other audio sources. With a multiroom system, everybody gets exactly what they want, when they want it. A multiroom audio system will be able to deliver different sources simultaneously to different rooms or the same source to all the rooms.

DIGITAL LOCKS

Digital door locks offers you and your family security and peace of mind, but above all the convenience and flexibility that only a digital solution can provide. A digital door lock is a door lock with primary use of a digital code to open the lock and also combines the privilege of easy integration with Automation. With a digital door lock, coming and going is keyless, effortless, and painless.

MOTORIZED CURTAIN/BLINDS

Motorized curtains are so simple to use that you'll find yourself using them more and experiencing benefits such as sun protection, instant privacy, and glare reduction, at the touch of a button. Motorized blinds create living environments that are comfortable, energy efficient and add an element of convenience and luxury to any interior space.

Life is already complicated enough...your electronics shouldn't have to be. "Attractive, high quality products can also be affordable." Our entertainment offerings help you create the ultimate Home Theater with cutting edge solutions. With a single touch of the controller, the lights dim, the shades close, the screen opens, the temperature adjusts, the AV components turn on, the inputs are selected, the volume is set and the DVD server begins to play. All you need is to reach out for your drink and popcorn as you relax.

SECURITY SYSTEM

Whether you're away for fifteen minutes or two weeks, you need to know that your family and valuables are safe at home. A home security system can notify you when things happen in your home, such as when your children come home from school. It can also protect you from fire, flood, carbon monoxide, natural gas and human intrusion. Well, why not buy a wireless security system which can be more easily installed than a wired system. The keypads and cameras and motion detectors can be integrated into a wireless system just as they can be with a wired system.

A LITTLE PEACE OF MIND GOES A LONG WAY

SURVEILLANCE

Surveillance cameras are the cornerstone of any home and professional security system. Homefx offers a wide range of CCTV security cameras; from multi-camera, all-weather options, to do-it-yourself covert video surveillance devices, there's a solution available for you to monitor the security of your home or office. With a CCTV setup, protect your property from vandalism and theft. CCTV security camera systems allow you to control your home surveillance from one central location via their included DVR.

CENTRAL VACUUM SYSTEM

If you would like to be able to vacuum clean your house quickly and quietly, without dragging around a vacuum cleaner, consider installing a built-in central vacuum system. With a central vacuum system, all you have to carry is a lightweight hose and a wand with a cleaning head. When you plug the hose into a wall or floor inlet/receptacle, the vacuum turns on automatically. Dust and debris travel through the hose into a pipeline of PVC tubing that runs through house walls, floors, or attic to a large power unit/dirt-collection canister that is typically mounted in an out-of-the-way place such as the basement, garage, or utility room.

PREFA B S

Pre-fabricated construction is not entirely new to the Indian construction space. Office and commercial buildings have been using prefab wall panels, ceiling panels, plaster boards and flooring systems to create interiors of offices and other places such as hospitals.

Prefab panels and boards are eight to ten times lighter than brick-and-mortar walls. This reduces the load on the structure, which lowers the building cost.

The use of prefab materials gives the option of customizing buildings for specific needs such as fire and water resistance and sound-proofing. Most of the demand for prefab materials is from large developers and for commercial spaces such as offices. Use by individuals for their homes is yet to gain popularity.

Buying a ready-made modular kitchen or bathroom is now par for the course for a number of Indians. But what if you could go to a store, buy a house and get it assembled on your plot? With pre-fabricated, or prefab, technology becoming popular, this might become a reality in a few years.

Who knows factory-made houses might soon become common across the country, providing affordable as well as luxury homes to lakhs of families. Or, the next time you relocate, you might be able to hire a transporter to move your entire house to a new city.

INTERIOR DESIGN

Interior design is a unique profession with a unique body of knowledge. It involves more than just the visual or ambient enhancement of an interior space. While providing for the health and safety of the public, an interior designer seeks to optimize and harmonize the uses to which the built environment will be put.

In interior design, decisions are made regarding health, safety and welfare, including the complex issues of indoor air pollution, space planning, design for special need populations, fire-safe fabrics and other materials, relevant codes and stands, product durability and quality, lighting, colour, etc.

It is more than the application of aesthetics. Interior design requires a specialized domain of knowledge and analytical skill, and acute judgment to utilize that knowledge in the creation of spaces which are functionally safe, efficient and aesthetically pleasing.
